

My Summer Holiday

During the summer holiday I went to London to visit 'The Doctor Who Experience'.

At 'The Doctor Who Experience' we were able to go inside the Doctor's Tardis and see the costumes of the aliens that he fought. My Mum was quite scared of the experience at first but I loved it and was not scared at all.

The Tardis is like a tiny blue police emergency phone box but when you step inside, you discover it is a massive spaceship! When we went inside, we saw the Daleks who are one of Doctor Who's worst enemies.

Mum's favourite bit was getting to seeing Matt Smith who plays Doctor Who on a screen; he called them 'shoppers'. I thought the most amazing part was when we got to watch a clip from Doctor Who and the screen suddenly opened up and we had to step inside it! We were able to go in the Tardis and fly it a bit.

On my visit, I learned that the Doctor is known as a Time Lord and he has a spaceship and fights aliens. I really enjoyed the visit and would recommend it to all Doctor Who fans and maybe to their Mums as well!!
